Democratic Nominee to Make an Address Before Reunion of Wooldridge Camp, U. C. V.

Wooldridge Camp, U. C. V.

Henry C. Stuart yesterday accepted an invitation to address the annual reunion of Wooldridge Camp, United Confederate Veterans, at Chesterfield Courthouse, September 18. A committee waited on Mr. Stuart yesterday at the Westmoreland Club, and formally invited him to be present.

The annual reunion of the Chesterfield veterans is always one of the most enjoyable affairs in the county. Chesterfield Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, acts as hostess to the old soldiers, and will have as its guests Chesterfield Camp. Sons of Confederate Veterans, which has been organized in the past six months.

September 2 is the usual date for the picnic, but owing to the hot weather it has been postponed to the latter day, which will be more convenient. The affair will be an all-day one, and is cagerly looked forward to by Chesterfieldians. A big dinner will be prepared, and there will be addresses by several prominent speakers in addition to Mr. Stuart.

Wooldridge Camp was represented on the committee by Captain W. W. Baker, commander of the camp, and Chesterfield's representative in the House of Delegates. Mrs. James M. Gregory represented the Daughters, but her husband, Judge Gregory, acted yesterday in her stead. Commander Waverly W. LaPrade was the Son's representative on the committee.

Wealthy Retired Merchant Succumbs to Heart Attack in Bathroom at Home.

James J. Rankin, a wealthy retired merchant living at 401 North Eleventh Street, died suddenly at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in a bathroom, his body being discovered by his wife a few minutes after he crumpled on the floor.

Mr. Rankin had been in ill-health for a year or more, suffering from an affection of the heart. It is supposed that he was overcome just after entering the bathroom. Mrs. Rankin, who was in a room just beneath the bathroom, heard the sound of a falling body, and rushed upstairs. The bathroom door was locked, and there was no answer to her repeated knocks and her cries. A servant came to her assist-ance and broke in the door. Mr. Ranance and broke in the door. Mr. Ran-kin was lying dead on the floor. Mrs. Rankin dropped down at his side and collapsed when she failed to arouse him. Some one ran for a physician, and Dr. A.
